WESTERN ALLEGHENY COMMUNITY LIBRARY NEWS

The WACL and North Fayette Township have recently been awarded a $50,000 Keystone Grant to renovate the library. The library serves the Townships of Findlay and North Fayette and Oakdale Borough, and has been in its new location at 181 Bateman Road since 2013. Before moving into the current building, the library board undertook an extensive renovation to prepare the space for the library, knowing that some projects would remain undone until after the move. About a third of the building remained unfinished, the outside area needed updating, and the roof would need replacing in the near future. In the intervening years, a concrete warehouse was converted into a carpeted, decorated library “Garage,” which provided a large meeting space for bigger library programs and outside rental. The unsafe, unfenced area around the library is currently undergoing its transformation into the “Backyard,” which adds landscaping and seating with an eye to outdoor programming for the warm summer months. However, much still remained to be completed – in particular, the new roof project and the renovation of the back area of the library into a usable space.

Now that the library had lived in its new space for a few years, more is known about how the community is using it and what is most needed. An ideal plan took shape of a redesigned Youth Services area, with a designated family play space and nursing mothers lounge. The library also needed a larger teen area for its growing collection and programming, as well as additional tutor rooms for quiet study. An expanded children’s room with a designated Youth Services customer service desk also emerged as a potential improvement.

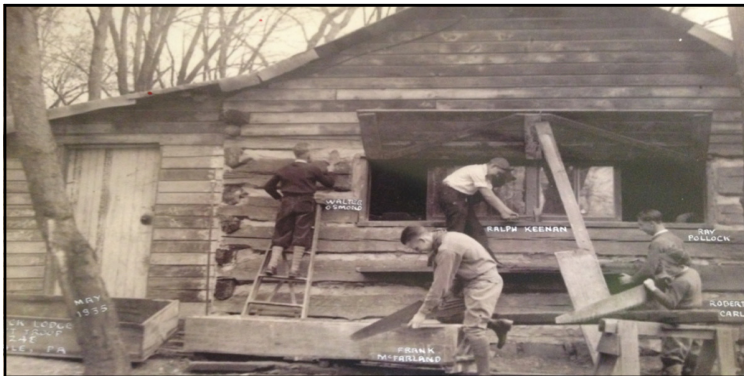

The ideas for the improved space will become a reality beginning in August 2017. “We are thrilled to be the recipient of this Keystone Grant and are extremely thankful to Senator Reschenthaler and his office for their role in acquiring the funds. This Grant will help us continue to move the library forward and better serve the needs of our community,” stated Amanda Kirby, Library Director.

Western Allegheny Community Library is one of 27 libraries across the state awarded money from the PA Department of Education’s Keystone Recreation, Park and Conservation Fund to rehabilitate or update library facilities. “Pennsylvania’s public libraries are an incredibly valuable resource to communities, a safe haven that provides access to knowledge, information, and even unimagined new worlds, all for nothing more than a swipe of a card,” said PA Governor Tom Wolf in a press release announcing the Grant. “As we make investments in teachers and students, we must also continue to invest in our libraries, as they serve as both a resource and an escape to all patrons, no matter their age, background or which city or town they call home.”
